which the populists have given him. He is a Democrat and has but little sympathy with the populists, except as an ally to beat the Republicans.

The populists have never yet called the roll on any vote unseating a Republican. They do it all by a yea and may vote, and they have never set had a quorum present at any time when voting on these cases.

A concurrent resolution in regard to the home-teaders and the Cherokee strip was introduced in the populist house today. It demands that parties holding real estate he prevented from taking homesteads, etc. An attempt to suspend the rules and base be prevented from taking homesteads, etc. An attempt to suspend the rules and pass it was defeated. This was the first sign of a difference of opinion among the populists since the session began.

The populists in the house adopted the senate concurrent resolution to meet in joint session next Wednesday to elect a United States senator.

A resolution has also been introduced to change the number of votes necessary to suspend the rules from two thirds to a top jurity.

If jurity.

The committee on elections of the house of representatives has heard the evidence in the case of M. K. Nichols, Republican, Nothing of Importance Done by Either House During the Day—The Republican, and has prepared its report, which is in favor of Nichols. The committee will so report on Monday, Nichols is elected by three voices. This is the Atchisou county contest, There was a mistake made in the returns, giving Woodworth a number of votes which were cast for Nichols. Of course, Woodworth a number of votes which were cast for Nichols. Of course, Woodworth a number of votes which were cast for Nichols. Of course, Woodworth and the certificate of election, as the state board could not go behind the certified returns, no more than they could in the Rosenthal case. In an interview with Mr. Woodworth today, he said that he had heard what the decision was, but claimed his seat on the certificate of the Dunamore side. There are two other contests before this committee.

The Senate this morning was duly held. Only 78 votes were cast—all for George W. Crane. The convention then adjourned until Monday.

Both houses met this morning, but nothing of importance was accomplished in either. The populist house was in see that they were actually anamed to put their guillotine in motion. It is expected that they will unseat the Republicance on Monday.

Hoth houses met this morning, but nothing of importance was accomplished in either. The populist house was in session all the forenoon, while the house of epresentatives did no business, but adjourned until Monday next. In the populist house this morning the Rev. Mr. Melvin offered a prayer, part of which was as follows:

"O Lord, we thank thee for separating the chaff from the precious grain—the sheep from the goats—and we suppticate the to biess this brauch of the house of representatives."

There was quite a sensation at the close of the prayer, and both laughter and indignation prevailed.

At the afternoon session of the populist house there was evidently no quorum, but no one objected and they proceeded to business. The committee on elections reported on the contest of White against Richter of Morris county. Mr. Richter holds a certificate from the state board of This may be goed talk, and may be corten."

This may be goed talk, and may be corten.

This may be good talk, and may be cor rect; but to an onlooker it seems that the Democrats do cut a figure, and a pretty bug one, just at this time. J. B. Watkins of Lawrence has been here for the past two days, and is putting in his best licks for the position of senator. One of his lieutenauts said today: "There is only one drawback to his canbelieving, as he said, that he has no right to be a first class candidata. With the exception of J. K. Hudson's candidaty for a coording to law. He went home two days the aenate, when Perkins was appointed, there has never been a man come to the front with such a spontaneous following as Watkins. It is an enthusiastic crowd that is pushing him, and its claims seem to be mentorious. Those who know anything of the growth of the state for the past twenty years must admit that Mr. Watkins has been a great factor to bringing the state into prominence. Indeed, he is a promoter in all things. He is better known in the east than any other purely business man in the state. His commerousloess man in the state. The Cost Sale of Boots and Shoes

Still goes on. Everybody pleased with the prices and goods. Come and Save money.

Martin had a cinct on the populist nom-ination, but the vote of the populist sena-ters today does not smale that view of the one. Judge Doster had 13, Martin 6, and Briedential 4. A populist of the highest standing said to your correspondent today:

"Even if Martin Ia nominated, ha can never be sected. There are a dozen popu-lists members who will not vote for him. which specifiers who will not the continuous of ho caucity."

When reminded that they had not been able to break a way thus far, even when they believed their aution to be wrong, the reply was:

"There are reasons why they can do see on a matter like this, which you do not understand."
